CENTAUR ATTENDS THE PREMIERE

CRAWFORD

CENTAUR

JUNE, 1975

An entire year was spent in planning and producing the 1975 CENTAUR for the student body at Crawford High School. Hundreds, probably thousands, of hours were necessary for the writers, photographers, artists and production team to prepare the initial plan—and as many hours were spent in rewriting, reshooting, and redrawing to perfect the final scenes.

In June, 1975, the cast members gathered to preview their work and are now eager to share their experiences. The 'coming out party' as it was, brought out the latest in fashion trends, as CENTAUR staff members posed for its own portrait in front of the marquee, especially worded for the occasion, at the Community Concourse in downtown San Diego. The cast included: The production manager, Francis 'Luckless Lindy' Linderman, thought formal attire meant midnite blue Levis and tennies, but settled on a white dinner jacket and bermuda shorts. Preferring to shun public attention, he vowed to stay at home next time.

Judy 'Judy, Judy, Judy' Clugston, director of cast affairs, whose demure appearance belied the real girl behind the glasses. Despite the wig, hat and fur coat, the fans were quick to recognize the girl from the Clairol commercials.

'Diamond Jim' Tulumello, who helped soothe faculty relations by using formal portraits for the first time in years, was stylish in his arctic white denims and burgundy sweater.

Assistant director of cast affairs, Chandra 'The Mad Russian' Lobanov, stunned theatre goers with her off the shoulder gown and wrap around shawl. Chandra's press release alleges that she was discovered when working in a submarine sandwich factory.

Lori 'David's little sister' Kishi, moved into her own starring role and amazed critics with her performance as director of 'The Children's Hour' (the sophomore section) and her versatility as a bit player in many scenes.

'Lovely' Lynda Bunuan, 'Diamond Jim's' ingenue, angered environmentalists with her genuine Polar Bear stole. Lynda offers a refreshing new personality to fans of the theatre.

Assistant to the athletic director, 'Agile' Ron Moore attended the premiere despite his recent, unfortunate motorcycle accident. Unfortunately, he will not make the best dressed list this year because his tuxedo looked as if it had doubled as pajames during his convalescence.

A blond bombshell, Shari 'Baby Doll' Savary, looked as if she had just stepped out of a role as a stand-in for Marilyn Monroe. She worked as a dark room technician, assisting photographers, mixing chemicals, soothing tempers and repairing hurt feelings.

That lucky fella between the two gorgeous gals is Ernie 'Help me someone' Munoz. He was an assistant to 'Judy, Judy, Judy, but needed no help with 'Baby Doll' and 'Great!' Gretchen Grawunder, renowned photographer, tennis star, and race car driver, who is being promoted for the next Black Velvet billboard advertisements. Unfortunately, no one remember what Ernie was wearing.

Technical Assistant and photographic effects were part of the role played by 'Aging' Mark Dowling. The crooked old man's appearance disguised his physical conditioning program, which consisted of marathon running before the other cast members arrived for the daily shooting assignments.

Renee 'I didn't do it' Edgington discarded her familiar blue jeans outfits to appear at the Concourse in a daring, red evening gown. Usually seen behind the camera, rather than in front of it, Renee also spent a great deal of time furthering work in the dark.

Cast as the Athletic Director, 'Bazooka Baby' Sheila Clark flashed brilliantly with glitter on her nails and eyelids as she appeared at the premiere of her second starring role.

Very properly attired in top hat and tails, Greg 'Senior' Tskinas, was obviously the star of 'The Graduate' section of the CENTAUR. A computer specialist, Greg spent most of his time running on the championship cross country team and collecting old newspapers.

Randalene 'Model to a T' Eddins was stunning in her fox fur, gloves and hat. As director of youth programs, Randy caused heads to turn with her trend setting vertical layouts.

Cindy 'Goode-Rich' Goode was a special assistant to the executive director. An original "rah-rah" type, Cindy rejected offers to work in Canada in order to keep the entire production on schedule.

Executive producer Lori Kvandal, 'that's Ka vaan-dull' broke all records by producing two back-to-back successes while her executive skill surmounted the usual internal squabbling among the cast. Lori's beautiful green off the shoulder dress, prompted 'Luckless Lindy' to stammer: "I hope she won't catch a cold."

Joe Knapp, 'The Silent One', failed to make an appearance, claiming to be romping about on other photographic assignments. Rumors have it, though, that Joe has resorted to moonlighting as a first-rate cleaning man to support his faltering budget.

Also in absence was Sandy 'Sketch' Slobig. Performing as a regular Picasso, Sandy captivated audiences with her continual masterpieces.

Introduction

Opening pages highlight the exclusive shots of the premiere showing of the "1975 Centaur", featuring Crawford faculty and students.

Gallery

This section features the outstanding art work and writings of the talented students at Crawford High School.

CAMERA

Seniors

The senior section contains the seniors' formal portraits as well as reflections of the Class of '75.

Juniors

The junior section holds photographs of the juniors on and around campus. Pictures of the KGB Chicken and homecoming are included.

Sophomores

This section embodies the various sophomore activities around Crawford's campus. Attention is focused upon classes and athletic participation.

Faculty

This is the first time in 10 years that the Centaur has used formal pictures of the Administration and Faculty. Included in this section are each members' areas in which they are involved in at school.

ACTION

Athletics

Featured in this section are team pictures, exciting action shots, and individual pictures of the varsity football, baseball, and basketball teams.

Clubs

The many interesting and worthwhile clubs active at Crawford are featured in this section.

Student Life

The student life section features highlights of the student year at Crawford. Student sales, dances and athletic events are focused upon.

ADVERTISING

This year's advertising section has an overwhelming number of ads. We wish to thank all persons and companies that contributed to the yearbook in this way, and to urge our readers to patronize those places that are so proudly presented in this section.

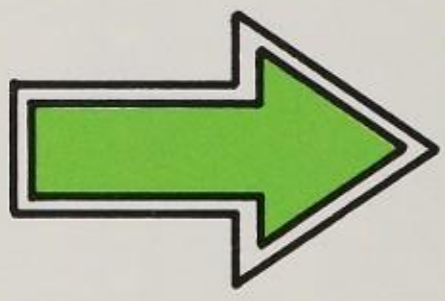
CELEBRATIONS



Auditions were held in the beginning of the school year for qualified artists and writers. We took some of the best work to put in the Gallery for the 1975 Centaur, to make it a smash hit. We'd like you to join us in touring the Gallery with your host, Charlie Chaplin.

There he is tall, cool
cracking his invisible
and psychological whip.
Instantly we straighten.
Conversations grow increasingly witty
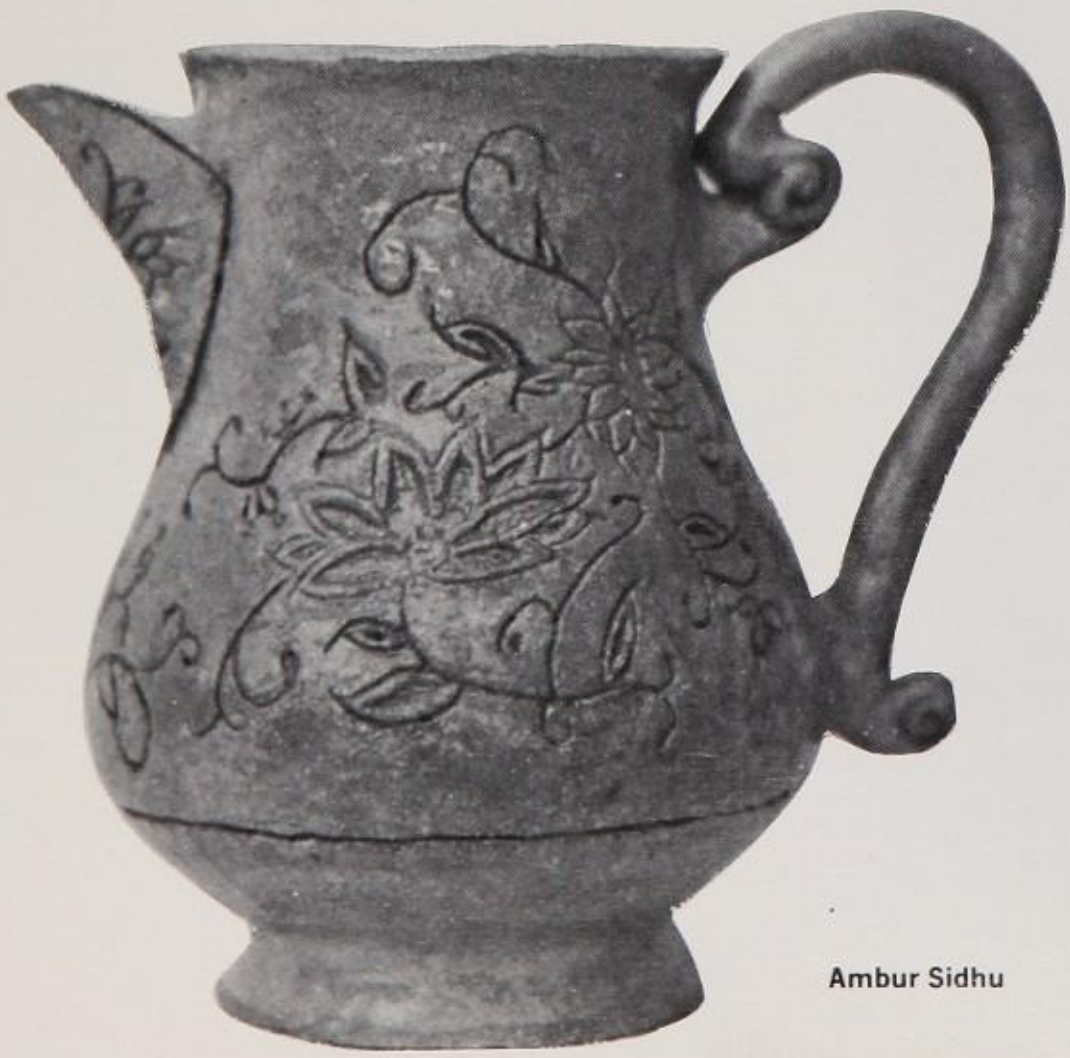
and women more coy.
All because of one boy.

Dorothy Oldsen



Ambur Sidhu

What is this guy?
What mechanism has he
that makes good friends
climb on top of one another building a competitive totem pole.
It's a child's game;
Yea, I'm king of the mountain!
He noticed me!
smiled at me!
talked to me!
We all played his game—
and of course . . .
he won.

To you everything appears so strange.
Is it reality or just your dreams?
You say you know and understand,
But to me that's not the way it seems.

If then everyone joined you, you say,
The world would be so kind.
Then you would take another hit,
And it really blows your mind.

The room keeps changing shape and size,
Now you're really tripping out.
You say you have things in control,
But that I really doubt.

Everyone standing around you,
Thinks that you're going under.
As you slowly look up at them,
Even you begin to wonder.

You knock things over as you fall,
Coke and acid were in the cup.
Everyone thinks you're asleep on the floor,
Without realizing you won't wake up.

A Day At Crawford

The monster is my teacher; I will not pass.
He makes me face the blackboard
He destroys my paper airplane
He has my yo-yo
He takes my candy bar
He grabs my comic book
He awakens me to, lead me to the office
Yes, though I walk through the halls of learning
I dread all classes for I have forgotten my notebook
My homework runs over
Surely mishaps and misfortune shall follow me.
All the days of my life,
For I shall dwell in the halls of Crawford forever.

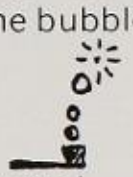
Soap Water And Broken Bubbles

Hey!
I've got some soap water,
Wanna blow some bubbles?
Why not?
It's fun, watch . .



See, and it's easy too!
Don't ya wanna try it?
Please?

Momma said you wouldn't
She even said you couldn't talk
Or hear me.
You can, can't you?!
I can't have any real friends
Only im . . . imag . . .
Imaginary friends like you.
Say something!

Hey!
I've got some soap water
Wanna blow some bubbles . . . ?

Twelve

Twelve. It's a road not taken, a turning point. It's sixth grade camp and falling in love with the counselors because he looks like Joe Namath. It's learning everything about sports because he loves football, then playing dumb so he can explain. Twelve. It's just before teenage, just after childhood. It's having to buy your clothes in 'Girls' when everyone else is in 'Pre-teen'. It's not wanting to kiss mom and dad goodnight because it's immature and then screaming for Mom in the night when the wind blows your door shut. Twelve. It's the year before Junior High, when you can finally grow up. It's putting away the crayons and pulling out eye shadows. It's flying a dite when you hope no one sees you. It's crying in the corner when Lance Alworth is traded to Dallas. (He was so cute!) Twelve . . . When mud pies taste like mud. When Barbie divorces Ken. Twelve is bringing out your favorite doll, the one that looked human, and seeing nothing but a doll.

DROPPING IN ON A TEN FOOT WAVE

I see it coming, like a giant mountain of water. It grows bigger and bigger, closer and closer. The wave is to me now but bigger than before, I looked up to try to see the top of this giant monster. I could not. I turned me and my board around in a frantic hurry and started paddling, suddenly like a sea monster throwing me down to the water below, I dropped in. I was freefalling like the astronauts do in space. Then with a hard jolt I hit the water. I was going so fast it felt like I was going to be blown off my board. All of a sudden a shadow was cast over me. I looked up and a blanket of water covered me. I saw my way out of this cylinder of water but would I make it? I saw that I would. As if I was shot out of a shotgun I boogied down the wave and then back up to the lip and shot my board into the sky. It looked like an arrow flying through the air. It came down with a splash about ten feet away. I swam to it got on, and paddled out once more.

Walking down the sandy shores
I hear the noises and the roars
Of waves breaking

These sounds seem to lure
A feeling. I'm not sure
Of its meaning.

A feeling of regret within,
Because I know all comes to an end,
And this, the beginning.

Sometimes I sit and think
Upon the rocks and the pink
Wildflowers growing,

Of how life and death meet
On an endless shoreline to compete
For us all.

TO YOU

Love came to me
the other day
like a soft butterfly,
I wasn't looking for it,
I didn't see it coming,
and then it was there.
It was so soft, so beautiful,
and yet so fragile,
the wind could break it.
I'm being careful with that butterfly
trying hard not to lose it.
But it keeps flying
short distances from my hand,
yet always returning.
Cage it, you say?
ah, that would prove fatal,
for a butterfly needs its freedom.
Caged, it will break
its delicate wings upon the bars,
and fade, and wither, and die.
Then nothing will be left
of that beautiful creature,
except memories.
And I,
I would rather have the butterfly itself.
So fly away,
if you must
and please return soon.
But if you don't I'll try not to cry.

AN IDLE CRY

My love, my only baby, speak to him.

Open your eyes and receive him.

Beg it of the saint to heal you,

As the boy reaches out to touch the saint, the Flame of Life flickers out in his eyes, like a candle in the wind.

The weight of his body lies cradled

in his mothers arms.

Her eyes are brilliant with frenzy,

"Oh God, don't take my only baby away from me!"

Her face is stricken with horror.

As her son lies limp . . lifeless in her arms. The color in his face gradually turns blue and cold.

The mother turns and unwantingly

she sees in the distance the floating spirit of her baby drifting away as though reaching out to life one more.

With the baby cradled in her arms

she just sits there, in the midst of the night, lonesome, longing for the love of her baby . . .

Alone.

MY SONG

I'm going to sing my song
And sing it all day long
A song that never ends
How can I tell you,
All the things inside my head?

The change in these past years
Has made me see our world
In many different ways
How can I tell you,
Love can change our destiny?

Love can change the world
Love can change your life
Do what makes you happy
Do what you know is right
And love with all your might
Before it's too late.

Dorothy Oldsen

Geoshi Therriault

Where did I find these words
Something inside me is burning
There's life in other worlds
Maybe they'll come to earth,
Helping man to find a way.

One day I hope we'll be
In perfect harmony.
A planet with one mind
Then I could tell you
All the things inside my head.

I'm going to sing my song
And sing it all day long
A song that never ends
How can I tell you,
All the things inside my head?

I'm going to sing my song
A song that never ends. . .

SUNSHINE ON MY FACE

sunshine feels good
on my face.
so warm.
the breeze
that's blowing is gentle
as it's fingertips brush against my skin.
my mind could make-believe that the touch
was from human hands,
but instead i do not let
my mind wander.
i prefer to sit and feel the goodness
the honest and real feeling of sunshine
on my face.

Please . . .
If you fear our love is dead,
Fear not,
It is just seeing new horizons,
Though we walk on tender ground,
Fear not,
I am always here to brace your fall.
If the bluntness seems to hurt,
Hurt not,
Bluntness is the flower of my love.
When the thoughts get too confusing,
Think not.
My thoughts should not be impressed on you.
And if it becomes too hard to bear,
Cry,
So that I may help you bear the pain.
Because that is what I am here for.
I love you.
And even though our love has changed,
It is ours,
It is pure,
It is true,
As long as we both shall grow.

WE ARE BROTHERS

Once, very long ago
We slashed our wrists
And became blood brothers.
We held our arms together
And let the flow of blood
Mix and become one.
I can still remember
The look on your face
As our blood, rich with oxygen,
Formed drops and fell to the ground.
The scars have long since healed and
Can no longer be seen.
But our friendship has never wavered.
Our skins were of a different color,
Yours was white
And mine, red.
But we lived together
In the same house.
We ate the same food
And shared equally all we had.
Our nations hate each other
And now war and kill.
But we will never bring harm
To one another.
For between us
There is a sacred oath,
The ritual of brotherhood
Through the mixing of bloods
That none may destroy.

Dreams Are Just Pretend

I used to spend my life in dreams
It was like a second home to me-
That dreamworld.

Dreamworld-
A place where flowers always bloom
And children never have to cry.
A place so very magical that you create
The sun, the moon, the stars or sky.

But now I'm older
I dared to find
That dreams are just pretend.

So now I know the truth
And pretending has to end.
Still in my mind I wonder
How the beach, the sea, and sand
Were molded into castles
If dreams are just pretend.
But in my mind I guess I know
All that was done by children's hands.

And help them when they find
That dreams are just pretend.

Gridiron Action Thrills Fans

Lincoln High School has been a stumbling block for the football team for a long time, but the Colts came on strong in a 46-24 victory over the Hornets. In the opening contest against Helix the outlook for the Colts was dismal. To add to their misfortune the gridiron squad was smaller in physical size and in number.

Because of the enthusiasm and determination shown by each of the players, the Colts represented the Eastern League in the CIF playoffs.

After defeating Bonita Vista in the first round of the playoffs, the Colts put up an excellent fight against the top ranked Vista Panthers but were defeated, 28-26, in the quarterfinals.

1. Fred Zoc (40) and Bill Hall attempt to block a punt by a Morse player.
2. J.V. team consists of First Row; 24 Michael Brown, 22 Jon Phelps, 65 Ted Leimback, 51 Danny Cain, 82 Greg Smith, 17 David Biggers, 33 Michael Garcia, 26 Jeff Teal, 84 Joe Yant, 20 Garry Irving. Second Row; 30 Brent Whitmeyer, 72 Curt Burkhead, 75 Arthur Cartier, 23 Curtis Moring, 83 Daniel Garcia, 66 Doug Wallace, 52 Greg Meddles, 27 Jim Higgins, 53 Tony Palestini, 21 Joe Herrera, 71 Jay Jackson, 11 Mark Wright, 85 Doug Rangel. Third Row; 25 Greg Washington, 32 Napolean Delane, 63 Gary Johnson, 13 Mike Martinez, 60 Jeff Strickland, 76 Eugene Billingsley, 70 Jim Coker, 64 Joe Saranti, 80 Meno Uribe, 81 Felipe Pauu, 67 Mike Stark, 73 Victor Dewitt, 86 Rick Kuhl.
3. Jerry Wagner (44) runs for yardage as John Coronado (25) comes to assist.
4. Michael Brown rejoices after a touchdown against Morse.
5. Coach Marshall Malcolm demonstrates a difficult maneuver with pylons at a J.V. practice.

Champs

1. Leading the Colts to a CIF victory is Phil Hendricks. Following closely behind him is Glenn Best who finished an unexpected second in the finals.

4. Goalie Mark Sturhann watches as Eugene Huff quickly tosses the ball to another teammate while being pursued.
5. Before each game every player must pass a routine nail check. It seems that the Colts are accustomed to this and are uninterested in the whole ordeal.
6. Bryan Gannon attempts to receive a pass from teammate Bobby Bilz in a fast moving game against Fallbrook.

Semi-finals Goes Under to Vista

Since the beginning of the water-polo team seven years ago, the Colts have been a dominating power in aquatic athletics. Two of those seven years they took the C.I.F. crown and had expectations of repeating in 1974. The Colts ended their regular season play with a 19-4 record, and all four losses were in tournaments. Going into the playoffs, they played a very close game before edging Poway, 8-7, in sudden death overtime. The next day Vista defeated Crawford, winning the game on a goal scored through the side of the net. Despite the loss at Gunther Pool, Mark Sturhann was honored by being named C.I.F. goalie of the year.

The Science Fair activity, which participants did on their own time, reflected these students special interests and goals in the science field. This year there were twice as many projects entered than in past years. Twenty seven of the thirty nine participants were chosen to go to the 21st Annual Greater San Diego Science and Engineering Fair held in the Federal Building, Balboa Park, from April 10 to April 13, 1975. Winning projects were selected by an independent panel of judges. Overall, the Science Fair was a great success.

That's what's cooking at...

Breakfast, lunch and dinner, there's always something good cookin' at Jack-in-the-Box. For breakfast, try the BREAKFAST JACK—a deliciously different ham, egg and cheese sandwich. For lunch, bite into a MOBY JACK—steaming fish filets, tartar sauce and cheese. And for dinner, grab onto our jumbo hamburger, the JUMBO JACK. The BREAKFAST JACK. The MOBY JACK. The JUMBO JACK. Just a taste of the good things cookin' at Jack-in-the-Box.

The magic of professional hair styling...

In the enchanted Kingdom of San Diego, there lived a little Prince and Princess, whose love of playing in the sun, the sea, and the wind damaged their beautiful hair. In desperation, the little Princess ventured into the world of Charles Hairstylists; and what she found surprised her. There was the Blow Cut; a method of styling with summer-breeze softness. There was Hair Reconditioning to restore her hair's natural vitality. She discovered treatments to let her hair fall in gentle, easy-care waves. When the Prince saw this magical transformation of his Princess's hair, he was glad. But he hesitated following her example until one day the wise little Princess took his hand and said, "Dear Prince, is the health and beauty of your body so important, and your hair so unimportant? Or is Charles Hairstylists more fearsome than dragons? And so, the Prince, too, came to Charles Hairstylists; and he, his Princess, and their hair lived happily ever after. Why not come in today and see what our Magic can do for YOUR hair?

About this book:

The 1975 Centaur was printed by offset lithography at Josten's/ American Yearbook Company in Visalia, California. The book is printed on shadow weave paper. Captions are 8pt. News Gothic with bold and body copy is 10 pt. News Gothic with bold. Headlines were prepared by the Graphic Enterprises class using the Strip Printer composing machine. 1,125 copies were published with an operating budget of $9,896.50.

The 1975 Centaur Staff would like to thank the following people for the help and assistance which they gave throughout the year.

Mr. Burt Nestor and Mr. John Valdez from Busco Nestor Studios
and
Mr. Steve Wagner
Yearbook representative
and
The management of the Fox Theatre
720 'B' Street
San Diego, CA.
for the use of their theatre
for the cover photo.
and
Mr. George Carter from Marvin K. Brown Cadillac
and Mr. Jack Lentz
for the use of their cars.

Photo Credits:

We would also like to thank
Nathan Meyers for his photographic assistance on pages 68,71 and 132.

It has been an unequalled opportunity for me to watch the progress of this yearbook as it progressed from a mere thought in September to the final product in June, and having served as Editor-in-Chief for two consecutive years, my experience has shown that it was more difficult to produce the 1975 book-totally different in concept and theme. I have also found that students at Crawford are not as easy to portray on paper as I had expected when I first entered the Publications class three years ago.

I'd like to give a special "Thank You!" to each staff member for his/her's help, dedication and concern in working to bring this book to you. However, I would have difficulty in composing a sentence to express gratitude to 'Lindy' for helping me increase my skill and knowledge in the field of publications while causing me to grow and mature as a person-something that I'll carry with me as I leave Crawford.

Working with the theme 'The Theatre', the staff was pleased to feature Charlie Chaplin as host, to introduce the glamour and glitter of the school year. It is my hope that the 1975 CENTAUR will help you remember and relive those special moments.

Lori Kvandal
Editor-in-Chief
